Favorite Western Rieslings from $10-$25
Take another look at the white that's storming the West

The rise of Riesling

We tasted about 50 Rieslings in the course of researching this story — more than we knew at the outset were being made here.

Pacific Rim Dry Riesling (Columbia Valley, WA, and Mosel-Saar-Ruwer, Germany; $11). With distinct diesel but delicate stone fruit aromas, this Riesling's not quite bone-dry, but it's crisp, with tart apricot, tangerine, and lime flavors, in that order. A steal!
